COURTS CONVENED:

Circuit Court—First Monday in February, June and October.

Chancery Court—First Tuesday after fourth Monday in February and first Tuesday after first Monday in August.

Wednesday, May 30, 1917.

Are you keen to have your boy enlist in the army? That matters not one whit, if he is within the prescribed age limit he must register or he is liable to one year in a federal penitentiary.

Last season sheep and lambs brought unusually high prices and as a result most farmers in this county sold their sheep too close. The wool clip this season is far short of normal in Tennessee while the prices are "out of sight."

Sheep buyers are coming to this section now looking for sheep and lambs for the market. That they will bring a very high price no one doubts, but it matters little what the price is, it will not be a wise move—in the opinion of the leading stock experts of the country—to sell the ewe lambs.

The same condition applies to hogs and cattle. Especially are live stock men urged not to sell female animals but on the other hand are urged to breed them to the utmost to make up the present great shortage in meat.

In the nearly five years that Woodrow Wilson has been president he has not appointed one republican of even ordinary prominence to any position of trust, with one single exception. That is in the case of Elihu Root, whom he has named as the head of the war commission to Russia.

It is a notable fact that there is no compensation connected with this commission; had there been it is very probable that some "worthy democrat" would have been appointed in spite of the fact that Root is the most prominent world diplomat in this or any other country.

When the French and English commissions arrived in the United States only democrats were invited to meet them, yet the henchmen keep yelling: "Stand behind the president in this crisis."

There has never been a man who occupied the presidential chair who has shown so much intense partisanship as has President Wilson.

Yet, "he kept us out of war" and "lowered the high cost of living."

No emperor, or other ruler has so much power placed in his hands as in the case of President Wilson. Never was power used in such a partisan manner as he is using it.

In this issue appears a call for a preparedness meeting in the court house Saturday, at one o'clock. That much could be accomplished at this meeting there is no doubt, provided something besides talk is indulged in.

While the Chronicle does not presume to be in the attitude of advising those persons and institutions of the county that have means to help such an enterprise, it is quite clear that if money could be furnished without interest until the crop is harvested this fall, there are quite a number of persons who would produce considerable quantities of food who will not otherwise produce so much.

It is useless to urge a man to plant certain crops when he has neither the seed nor the means to secure needed seed. That course smacks too entirely of bombast and lacks the effective force that accomplishes things.

The farmers of this county, who are not planting all the feed and food crops they can, need aid more than urging. Think on that side of the question, Mr. Man-Who-Has-Money.

Those farmers who can possibly do so, will not only find a good and profitable market for all kinds of hay and forage, but they will be performing a patriotic duty for this particular section by producing all the roughage possible.

Much of the hay that is used by teamsters of this section comes from Michigan, Illinois and the western states. In the face of the probable burden that the war will place on the transportation facilities of all railroads of the country, and particularly all roads from the west to the east, the chances for getting hay shipped to this section are likely to be very slim. It is very probable, also, that the army demand will be heavy for hay in which event the amount that could possibly reach this section, even with plenty of railroad facilities, may prove so very small as to cause prices to soar beyond the present excessively high point.

This is one year when farmers should grow millet and any other hay crop possible. Owing to seed shortage such crops as soy beans, cane and cow peas should not be sown broadcast but should be drilled and cultivated.

The hay question promises to be a very serious one, owing to seed shortage and the present poor condition of the grass hay crop, which cannot be greatly remedied by any weather conditions that may prevail from now on.

President Wilson has given utterance to the following words:

"I can imagine no greater disservice to the country than to establish a system of censorship that would deny to the people of a free Republic like our own their indisputable right to criticize their own public officials. While exercising the great powers of the office I hold, I would regret in a crisis like the one through which we are now passing to lose the benefit of patriotic and intelligent criticism."

In spite of that utterance he is now using all the power of his great office to have congress pass a law strictly censoring the newspaper press of the country.

CHILDRENS DAY.

Childrens' day service was held by the Sunday school of the Grassy Cove M. E. Church, South, Sunday May, 27, and was a great success in every particular.

Long before the hour for the exercises to begin, the house was filled by the children and their friends. The program consisted of songs and recitations by the Primary, Junior and Intermediate departments, ably assisted by the choir, made up of the Senior and Bible classes. Every one did his part and reflected much credit on those who did the hard work of training.

The decorations of evergreens and flowers were profuse and beautiful. The whole affair was gotten-up and put through by the young people of the Sunday school and they deserve much praise for the interest displayed and the time that they so freely gave.

At your druggist, 25c. Formula on the bottle. 1.

ROAD WORK.

The grade work on the Memphis-to-Bristol highway on the west end reached Pleasant Hill last week. From there to the county line, a distance not exceeding three miles, the work will be light. The work there is suspended for this week as the force is at work dressing up the road north to Clarkrange, seventeen miles. Much tie hauling has been done on the north end the past winter getting ties to Isoline for shipment. That section being badly cut up, a force is now at work putting it in shape.

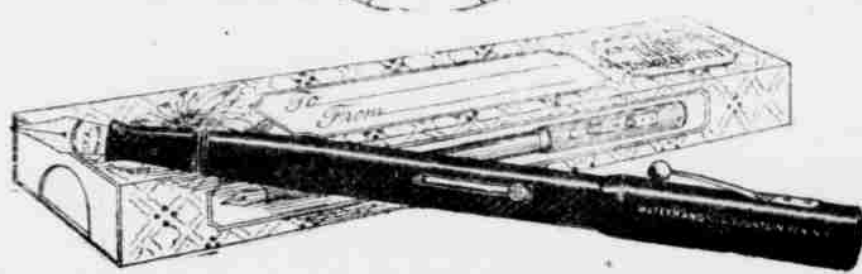

On the east end Alva Potter has a force of men and teams working near Daysville, as a section about six miles long remains yet to be completed to the Boone county line. The force now working under Mr. Potter is not large, as farmers are making an extra effort in that section of the county, as well as elsewhere, to increase the feed and food supply for the coming year.

OIL DEVELOPMENT.

The Oklahoma company, that is erecting an oil derrick in the Peavine neighborhood, have the derrick practically ready for drilling and expect to start drilling this week, even if they are not at work by the time this reaches Chronicle readers.

ALL ABOUT OLD GLORY.

Complete information in regard to the flag has been prepared at the suggestion of Congressman George H. Tinkham, of Massachusetts, giving its history, rules for its display, and a chronological list of important events in the development of the present design.

In connection with that data Mr. Tinkham has compiled a "Calendar of American History" showing for every day in the year the most important event in our history which occurred on that date. To satisfy numerous inquiries he has received relative to the subject Representative Tinkham has had the entire matter published in the Congressional Record, from which extracts will doubtless appear in the press of the country.
